COUNCIL PASSES STATE ST. LEGISLATION

Envoys Resume Talks on Indochina Peace

GAME-WINNING BLOW—Chicago White Sox's Nellie Fox loops a bases-loaded single into short left to drive in the 10th and 11th runs in the eighth inning of the All-Star game in Cleveland. The score was deadlocked at 9-9 at the time. Thus the American league team won its first All-Star game since 1949, 11-9.

U.S., Britain Agree On Line For Partition

France Fails To Get Dulles To Rejoin Sessions At Geneva

PARIS (AP)—The Big Three foreign ministers passed up France's big Bastille Day parade today to continue their debate on what kind of an Indochina peace can be won from the Communists at Geneva, and whether the United States will approve it.

U.S. Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Premier-Foreign Minister Pierre Mendes-France held a long first session last night which informants said brought out widely differing views.

Agree To Partition

Earlier yesterday an authoritative British informant in London told newsmen the United States and Britain had "pretty well agreed" to accept a partition of Viet Nam on a line somewhere between the 16th and 18th parallels. But the informant added, "it may be that France will feel obliged to accept an agreement that we and the United States would regard as dishonorable."

The holding of another conference session today indicated to observers that Mendes-France and Eden had not convinced Dulles last night he should bulwark their negotiations with the Reds by returning to the Indochina peace talks at Geneva.

Dulles had declined to go back to Geneva, or to send Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, to avoid American responsibility for any peace agreement smacking of appeasement of the Communists.

To Return To Geneva

Mendes-France and Eden were scheduled to return to Switzerland this afternoon.

In the talks here, Dulles was reported pushing hard for immediate organization of a Southeast Asia defense alliance, contending as he has in the past that such a lineup against Communist expansion would strengthen the West's bargaining position at Geneva. Britain and France previously have feared formation of such an alliance would work against chances for Communist concessions at Geneva.

Conference sources said the ministers last night also took up the question of restoring sovereignty to West Germany.

Lisbon School Board OKs $296,426 Budget

LISBON — A 1955 budget of $296,426 was approved by the Lisbon Board of Education Tuesday night. The sum is an increase of $26,552 over the 1954 budget.

The resignations of three teachers were accepted. They are Paul Olson, chemistry and physics teacher, and Miss Shirley Stang and Mrs. Bernice Arter, Lincoln School elementary teachers.

The purchase of four new types of high school and two elementary textbooks was authorized. Changes will be made in high school texts for chemistry, bookkeeping, algebra and biology.

Plans for a new well to supply water for sprinkling the football fields were discussed.

The board decided to meet soon with the citizens swimming pool committee to discuss a location for the pool. G. C. Rauch, real estate agent, is chairman of the committee.

To relieve the burden on office telephones, the board authorized the installation of a pay phone in the high school hall for student use.

V. J. Ullman, superintendent, said teachers needed include an assistant football coach, a science teacher, an industrial arts teacher and one elementary teacher.

170 Attend Legion Auxiliary District 10 Convention Here

Greetings from the Department of Ohio of the American Legion Auxiliary were extended to 170 delegates and auxiliary members of District 10 by Department President Mrs. Linus Schmelzer of Del.

phos at the convention Tuesday afternoon at the Charles H. Carey Post home here.

Mrs. Schmelzer congratulated the district, comprised of 74 units, in Canton for the office of state president for the coming year. Election of officers for the state will take place at the Cincinnati convention July 30, 31 and Aug. 1.

Accomplishments of the department were recounted by Mrs. Schmelzer.

District President Mrs. Harry Raber of Cadiz presided at the meeting and with Mrs. William Needham, junior past president of the Salem unit, welcomed the guests. Rev. Harold W. Deitch of the Salem First Christian Church, gave the invocation.

Among the guests presented were Mayor Dean Crammer; Clifford Whinnery, Salem post commander; John Herman Jr., 10th district commander, and T. D. Copeland, 10th district commander-elect.

Mrs. Rae Crosey, department historian; Mrs. William Gill, department rehabilitation chairman; Mrs. Nimmon, department first vice president; and district officers, Mrs. Joe Kovack, secretary; Mrs. Harry Stuckey, Americanism chairman; Mrs. Walter McCoy, Child Welfare chairman and Darrell Ormsby, rehabilitation chairman.

Two trophies and a ribbon were presented three units which have the highest percentage of membership quota — Hopedale, North Georgetown and Cadiz.

Mrs. Walter McCoy of Lisbon was elected delegate to the National convention in Washington, D.C. Aug. 30, 31, and Sept. 1. Mrs. Pearl Estes, and Mrs. Chester Kridler of Salem will serve as alternates. Mrs. Gill's name was proposed for candidate for delegate-at-large to the state meeting.

Other highlights of the program included the singing by the Cadiz Legionettes, and a talk by Mrs. Nimmon, who is candidate for department president from 10th district.

On the district committees for the Tuesday meeting were Mrs. Virgil Henry of Cadiz, Mrs. Donald Salsberry, Wellsville and Mrs. John King, Green town, credentials; Mrs. Ray Long, Steubenville and Salem City Council Tuesday night passed an emergency measure that final legislation relative to the rebuilding of downtown State St. and a resolution declaring the necessity of improving sections of State St. and S. Broadway by the installation of "White Way" lighting.

Action on the legislation regarding the manner of financing the city's sewage expansion program was postponed temporarily.

Political Light On Gov. Lausche

Seen Among Party's Presidential Timber

BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. (AP)—Three Democrats and half a dozen Republicans claimed the political spotlight today as the nation's governors prepared to wind up their 46th annual conference with a call for a conference with President Eisenhower on a vast new road-building program.

Although politics officially is taboo here, Governors Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Frank J. Lausche of Ohio appeared to be advancing to the forefront in a Democratic parade of potential 1956 presidential candidates.

Republican governors, who often furnish that party's nominee, hid themselves under a blanket assumption that President Eisenhower is going to be a candidate again.

Some Lift Corners

But some of them lifted the corners of the coverlet to make it known privately that they would not be adverse to being considered favorably if the President should decide not to run again.

In the vanguard of these was GOP Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois, who turned away direct questions about his future aspirations but obviously wasn't very put out at those asked.

The biggest unsettled political question of the conference, however, concerned a man who twice has been the Republican presidential nominee and whose friends think he would like to have a third shot at the grand prize—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey has been an affable host to this conference—and nothing more. He said flatly he won't talk about the possibility that he might run for a fourth term as governor of New York in November.

Wants To Retire

Among those who know him best, Dewey was pictured as not finally decided. His friends said he doesn't want to run and would like to retire to private law practice, believing that the presidential lightning is as likely to strike him there as in elective office.

On the other hand, there are those close to him who believe that in the end his name will be found on the state ticket in November.

He might be opposed by Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. or Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. of New York, credited here with being among the most likely Democratic nominees.

The outnumbered Democrats among the governors have been getting the most political attention at this conference—which publicly

Three Hired By School Board

Roth To Return Here; Nadzam, Beltz Resign

COLUMBIANA — Frederic Roth, who was industrial arts teacher in Columbiana schools five years before taking a similar position in Alliance schools last fall, will return to his former position here next September.

The Board of Education of Columbiana Village Exempted School District Monday evening accepted the resignation of Andrew Nadzam as industrial arts teacher, a position he held last year. Mr. Nadzam will go to Youngstown schools.

The board also accepted the resignation of Richard Beltz, who has been a fifth-grade teacher and driver training instructor in the Columbiana schools for five years. He will teach high school biology in Medina.

Miss Kathryn Pine of RD, Columbiana, was employed as an elementary teacher, and Mrs. Fred Koenreich of Salem will teach in Junior - Senior High.

The continued growth in enrollment has forced the board to acquire the use of an additional room in the new addition to Grace Evangelical and Reformed Church. Two rooms have been in use for sections of the kindergarten department, and a third room for a section of the primary department has been found necessary.

The board authorized an advertisement for bids for supplying coal next school year, bids to be in by Monday, Aug. 9.

PLANS FOR the fourth annual Junior American Legion Invitational Baseball tournament at Firestone Park were announced at the meeting of Firestone Post Monday evening by John Ellis, baseball chairman.

Among eight teams that have shown an interest are Cadiz and Warren, O., and Wampum, Pa. The tournament will start with a double header Saturday, July 24, and a game Sunday, July 25.

The post voted to reimburse the police "hardship fund" for part of the money spent in sending a father and son to New London, Conn.

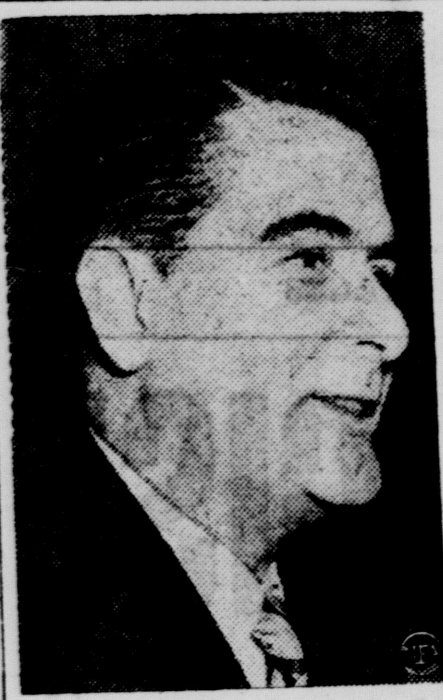

William Duffy, Boy Scout institutional representative, announced the trip made today by Boy Scout leaders to Valley Forge, Pa. Boy leaders in charge of the trip accompanied by Scoutmaster Robert Patchen, are James Rupert, Norman Spiker and Jack Fellers, patrol leaders, and Thomas Haney, troop scribe.

Post Commander George Snook announced that at the next meeting, Paul Reeves, Boys' State chairman, will present the three Boys' State delegates, Lloyd Mackall, and James Warrick, Columbiana High School juniors, and John Mellinger, Fairfield High School junior.

TWO PAKISTAN farmers, here under the international farm youth exchange agreement, told members of the Rotary Club Monday evening that although they are Moslems, they belong to the Islam rather than the Mohammedan branch.

The two young men, Khair Mohd Kahn Jamelle, 22, and Saifuddin Jatoi, 23, now at the Elmer Reihl and Jerome Hull farms, RD 3, and 2 Canfield, described farming conditions in their country where 70 per cent of the people depend on agriculture. They were presented by Superintendent T. V. Utterback of Fairfield School, program chairman.

Visiting Rotarians were Frank Sonnedecker, Salem, and Richard Kennedy, Lisbon. Art Bain of Salem, W. Va., and his son, Rev. Lawrence Bain of East Palestine.

DELICATE JOB — John E. Peurifoy, U.S. ambassador to Guatemala, played an important part in the truce between the anti-Reds and the Arbenz government.

He was active in negotiating formation of a second ruling junta and starting cease-fire talks.

Senator Says Delayed Power Bill May Hit Atomic Program

WASHINGTON — Sen. Anderson (D-NM) said today a long Senate look at a proposed government contract to buy electric power in the TVA area may delay President Eisenhower's broad new atomic energy program.

A controversy has been raging in Congress over the President's directive to the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to negotiate a contract for construction of a new private power plant to serve the Memphis, Tenn., area over Tennessee Valley Authority lines.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), administration floor leader for the 104-page Atomic Act revision bill, said the power issue promises to provide the main battle on a measure designed primarily to allow giving certain atomic information to allies and to permit private operation of nuclear facilities.

Hickenlooper said he also expects considerable debate on authority provided in the measure for the Defense Department to furnish allies with what he calls "sharply circumscribed" data on the "tactical employment of atomic weapons."

He told the Senate last night that the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, of which he is vice chairman, had provided "carefully stipulated safeguards" to withhold information on the "design and fabrication of the nuclear part of atomic weapons . . . (and) detailed engineering information on other sensitive parts of our weapons."

The United States, he said, still possesses "a vast superiority in weapon power," although "traitors, spies" and captured German scientists have permitted the Russians "to make atomic weapons several years earlier than under their own independent efforts."

He said the United States also is ahead in the development of peacetime power from atomic energy.

He and Anderson said in separate interviews they did not expect the battle over the electric power issue to kill the entire bill, as some Democrats have predicted. Hickenlooper predicted the measure will pass the Senate after "considerable debate."

The bill reached the Senate floor last night. The House may begin debate on it within a few days.

Anderson said the proposal for the AEC to sign a contract with a private Southern utility group for a new plant at West Memphis, Ark., to generate 600,000 kilowatts of added power "goes beyond" the original intention of Congress.

The AEC now has authority to conclude 25-year contracts for needed power. The present bill makes no change in this clause.

"This is pretty important legislation," Anderson said. "We might hold the bill up for a while because billions and billions of dollars are involved."

Hickenlooper said that Democrats, who have threatened to try curtailing the AEC's long-term contract authority, "are not concerned with the morality of this contract but are afraid that TVA will not be expanded."

President Eisenhower has defended his directive to the AEC to negotiate the power contract on grounds that it will enable the government to take a new look at TVA which, he said, is expanding beyond its original area.

The power which the AEC would buy from a private utility combine known as the Dixon-Yates group would be used by TVA to serve consumers in the Memphis area. TVA then would continue to furnish a like amount of power to the atomic plant at Paducah, Ky.

Anderson served notice he will offer an amendment to the atomic energy bill to allow AEC to contract for power only when it is to be delivered directly to an atomic installation.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) told newsmen he will offer an amendment to prohibit AEC from contracting to pay the taxes of any private firm or to compensate any private state and local governments. Under the proposed contract, AEC would pay taxes of the private utility group.

Allies Battle Defeat In Asia

Indo Dividing Line Difficult To Select

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States, Britain and France are now face to face with a serious defeat at the hands of Communist forces in Indochina. Their real problem is to prevent the defeat from being turned into a major disaster.

The difficulty they face in this task—a task at the heart of Secretary of State Dulles' flying mission to Europe—is that they have no guaranteed weapons for successfully fighting off Red political infiltration and subversion behind dividing lines drawn in any Indochinese agreement which may be reached. Dispatches from Paris said Dulles was reported to have "pretty well agreed" to some such division.

Unless some way can quickly be found to produce a previously unknown degree of strength in the area and build up a solid political base for new defensive positions, the developing Communist triumph in northern Viet Nam will almost certainly prove to be but the first of a series of Red steps to conquer a far larger area.

One of the obvious difficulties is that Southeast Asia is so far beyond the power centers of the free world—the United States, Britain and Western Europe. As far as anticommunism is concerned, the region provides little native basis for strength. In this respect it contrasts sharply with Korea and with Guatemala, whose new anti-Communist government was extended.

When the United States negotiated an armistice in Korea a year ago, the White House, State Department and Pentagon were all convinced that the line established between Communist North Korea and free South Korea would hold because of South Korea's fierce opposition to communism under President Syngman Rhee's leadership.

Southeast Asia lacks both the Rhee type of strength and the reinforcing effect of closeness to American power, which was the case in Guatemala. The nearest bases of real power are Australia and New Zealand, aside from Britain's relatively small force in Malaya.

So far two proposals have been put forth for backing up any armistice line which may be drawn. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden has proposed nonaggression guarantees. Secretary of State Dulles has proposed an alliance of about 10 anti-Communist nations having interests in the security of Southeast Asia. Both types of compacts would be designed to prevent open aggression against a fixed line—in other words, they would be able to deal only with a provable attack by the Communists, a renewal of the war.

But the real fear among informed officials here is that a limited Communist success in Indochina, the terms of which have been the subject of negotiation at Geneva, will have a magnetic effect on countries like Thailand, Burma and Indonesia are militarily weak. The only great power close to them is the Communist power of mainland China. It is an ideal setup, from the Kremlin's viewpoint, for squeeze pressure on the governments of those countries applied partly through diplomatic channels from the outside and partly through Communist party pressures from the inside.

Polio Season Precaution Urged By County Health Doctor

LISBON — It's time for polio to make its seasonal encore in Columbiana County, county health department authorities reminded today.

Dr. George S. Pantera, county health commissioner, said no cases have been reported to his offices so far. But in 1953, the first case, a five-year-old New Waterford boy, was reported to the health department in mid-June. Thirteen other cases of infantile paralysis were reported from the general health district.

The mere fact that polio cases have not shown up does not justify a lax attitude toward common sense precautions, the doctor said.

In referring to the new vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk, Pittsburgh researcher, Dr. Pantera said, "It is too early to entertain high hopes that this vaccine given to many children recently is the answer to the polio threat. The results await the evaluation of future epidemics in those areas in which the vaccine was administered."

Gamma globulin, given to several people in the county last year, has been found to be of little benefit, the health commissioner said.

The common advice that children should be kept out of crowds is based upon the fact that a crowd is a gathering of people from many neighborhoods and towns, where there may be a type of polio virus to which your child is susceptible. Even healthy people carry the virus, Dr. Pantera said.

Swimming in healthy pools is not dangerous in itself. However, close association with crowds and the tendency to become chilled or overtired increase both susceptibility and chance of contact with the virus, the commissioner stated. The water itself is not to blame.

Scientists believe you give the virus a head start when you become overtired. Studies have shown that heavy exertion in the early stages resulted in more severe and extensive paralysis.

Keeping clean — washing the hands before eating and after using the toilet — is very essential in warding off polio, Dr. Pantera declared. Don't use another's towels, dishes or tableware, he advises.

Dr. Pantera said travel for your child is unwise in the polio season. It is strenuous and increases number of possible contacts. If you do take the children along, he said, keep them out of crowds and give them adequate rest periods.

The doctor said if any of the symptoms — fever, joint aches, weakness, listlessness, gas or intestinal upsets — occur in a child, the family doctor should be consulted.

Municipal Employees, Families Hold Picnic

A picnic for members and families of the city service and water departments was held Saturday at Copacia's Lake. It was the first for the pick and shovel men of the service department in many years. Service Director James Feiler said today.

Pittsburgh Police Get Golfing Assignment

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Several Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) policemen have a choice assignment.

The cops, all golfers, will go out on the three county golf courses next week. They'll look like the average fellow trying to break par.

But they have orders not to worry too much about their scores. They've been ordered to keep on the lookout for an apparently well-organized gang of boys stealing golf balls.

Bylaws presented by Rev. Robert Mosher and his committee were accepted and reports were given by the Improvement and fund-raising committee.

Fund raising will begin soon under the direction of Foster McBride and his committee.

The place and time of the next meeting has not been decided.

Annual Picnic Held By Agricultural Council

LISBON — Ninety attended the annual picnic of the Columbiana County Agricultural Council Monday night at Willow Grove Park here.

Mrs. Florence Sidwell of Columbiana delegate to the state extension advisory committee, spoke. Miss Jean Stille, home demonstration agent, showed films of her experiences on Norwegian farms.

E. C. Holloway of RD, Hanover, presided at the business meeting.

Lisbon Kiwanians Will Hear Debate

LISBON — "Free Trade versus Protective Tariffs" will be the subject of a debate between a lawyer and a pottery company sales manager Thursday noon at the Kiwanis meeting at the Methodist Church. Both men are Lisbon Kiwanians.

Atty. Richard Kennedy will speak in favor of free trade. He will be opposed by Bill Carpenter, sales manager for the R. Thomas and Sons Pottery, who will talk for protective tariffs. Ross Ludwig will moderate the discussion.

Woman Weds Assailant, Refuses To Testify

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Daniel De Vito, 42, appeared before Chief Magistrate Harry Pine yesterday on a charge of the assault and battery of Virginia Howard.

Detective Michael Skurla charged that De Vito quarreled with the lady in a tailor shop June 25 and beat her severely about the head and body.

But when she took the stand yesterday, she refused to testify, claiming a wife's immunity. She said she and De Vito were married a week ago while he was out on bail.

Judge Pine dismissed the charges.

France, Britain Look To U.S. For Next Move

Wednesday, July 14, 1954

Flies and mosquitoes are now taking screen tests, and we wish we'd see them only in the movies.

Churchill also emphasized in his report to the House of Commons the deep-seated fear that he has about the H-bomb. This subject is bound to influence world policy more and more as the stories of terror, some of them innocently spread and others deliberately exaggerated are distributed with the possible result that the "will to fight" in France and Britain will be paralyzed.

If Britain and France are to be neutral because of the H-bomb, America's whole strategy in getting and keeping allies in Asia and Europe may have to be completely revised.

The capitalist system contains the seeds for its own destruction and the most potent of these is monopoly. The reduction of the automobile industry from more than 100 manufacturers to four major companies does represent an enormous increase in efficiency, but the question must be asked: If only four, why not two or one company? And if we come down to only one company, why not have government ownership? I know all the answers to these questions but as a capitalist, I am satisfied with none of them.

What is called a mixed system, that is, partial capitalistic and partial socialistic operations, does not work because private enterprise has few defenses against competition with untaxed government enterprises, and the authority of government when it combines its activities in the economic and political fields tends to become totalitarian, although that has not quite proved so in TVA.

From this standpoint, it can be said that if American marginal industries cannot compete with ciency, but the question must be asked: If only four, why not two or one company? And if we come down to only one company, why not have government ownership? I know all the answers to these questions but as a capitalist, I am satisfied with none of them.

Nevertheless certain American industries are suffering from what amounts to political-economic competition from Europe and Asia. One of the nastiest forms is going on at this moment in the flooding of the American market with Christmas toys and decorations from the atheistic countries behind the Iron Curtain. I shall call attention to this traffic at another time but I do suggest to buyers for depamen and chain stores that when they face a bonnet of such goods by patriotic organizations in October, November and December, it will be of little value to say that they did not know what they were doing.

Oregon Election

This year that division will be sharply drawn in Oregon, where Sen. Cordon must seek re-election.

Federal appropriations for hydro-electric power facilities in the Northwest have mounted with the years. In the first five years of Roosevelt - Ickes spending - the years when Boonville and Grand Coulee were initiated - appropriations were 135 million dollars. In the next five years they were $221 million dollars. In the next five years, which spanned the end of the war and the first Truman term, they fell back to 121 million dollars. But with the flowering of the Fair Deal and the great wave of inflation, appropriations were more than a billion dollars.

Dr. William A. Pearl, the Booneville power administrator, estimates that 7 billion dollars must be invested in generation and transmission facilities to meet the probable growth of the region in the next 20 years.

THAT IS WHAT makes the

Just as Sen. George Malone's Committee of the Senate has been studying the availability of minerals and materials for war time, so some study should be made of the availability of special skills without dependence on ocean traffic in war time.

A Speech For Red China

Give Red China a key to this building and you are putting a hammer and sickle over the entrance, planting poppy seeds in the flower boxes, dedicating the cocktail lounge as a chop suey joint and giving Gen. May the right to appoint the elevator operators and serve bird's-nest soup during debates.

"Hand a membership card to Chou En-lai entitling him to a good view of the East River and you might as well vote that all the ushers and interpreters be recruited from the North Korean Panmunjom truce delegation. Admit Red China to this organization and you might as well issue an engraved invitation to Red Chinese generals to open all meetings with bugle calls and drum beatings.

Gentlemen, I ask you the simple question: Are you voting today for the highest aims of the United Nations as an instrument of peace or are you voting for international runarounds, marathon dancing and life in dark alleys?

Are we mice or men? And, what is more important, do we hope to be effective as either? Boys and girls, I ask you was this skyscraper erected to develop noble resolves by peace-loving nations or a rehearsal hall for Martin and Lewis, and the Four Ritz Brothers? Are we here in our right minds or is our greatest need a psychiatrist's couch on every floor.

Gentlemen, be yourselves, with or without spirits of ammonia! And remember this is an edifice, not a squirrel cage, a resort for artful dodgers or a playground for weird thinkers. I thank you, and hope my thanks are not premature."

A ruling that bottled Martini cocktails be limited to three parts gin to one vermouth has been revised to permit five parts gin . . . The effect on house parties can be pretty devastating and we think it means a business boom for the men to replace broken windows, put the legs back on divans and refinish the piano.

Great Britain tried these steps in her steel industry and has been forced to go back step by step to private ownership and management.

Large Crowd Attends One-Day Jersey Cattle Show In Canfield

Jersey cattle breeders of the Northeast Ohio District brought 70 head of their best animals to Canfield Saturday for their annual one-day parish show. Held at the fairgrounds, the show and picnic dinner attracted a large crowd from the area.

Official judge for the day was Donald Fogg, Salem representative of the Warren Production Credit Association. The state association fieldman, Kenneth Miller was on hand to help direct the show. Mr. Charles Malmesberry of Beloit is president of the district organization.

Another highlight of the day was selection of the "Jersey Queen," to represent the district in a state elimination July 31, where a young woman will be selected to reign at the Ohio State Fair show. Miss Janice Groves of RD 5, Salem was selected for the honor.

Top awards in cow category of the show went to H. W. Bonnell, Cranberry Run Farm, north of Youngstown. His "Sybil Regal Dawn" was junior champion of the show, and a cow named "Sybil Design Queen Bess" was senior and grand champion. Mr. Bonnell was visiting in England at the time, and therefore did not see his cattle gather in the purple rosettes.

Junior champion male was owned by Orville Slagle of Poland, "Rochette's Louise Chief 558763" by name. The senior and grand champion animal was owned by Vern Wehr and Son of Berlin Center, and his name was "Misty Dawn's Tribute 538949."

In the contest for "best showman" among the juniors, the Bonnell trophy was awarded to Ralph Wehr of Berlin Center.

The show started with bull calves and a Hugh Bonnell entry won the top prize followed by the entry of E. R. Groves of RD 5, Salem. Third place was awarded the calf owned by E. S. Lowmiller and Sons, Minerva.

There was only one junior yearling bull, entered by Homer Slagle and Sons, Poland. In senior yearlings, top place went to Hugh Bonnell; second to Willis Zimmerman and Son of Salem; third to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brickley of Girard.

Vern Wehr and Son, of Spring Valley Farm, had the top two-year-old bull, with Zimmerman's second. Zimmerman also showed the only entry in the three-year-old bull class.

In junior heifer calves, Larry Greene of West Farmington won the top place with his exhibit. Janice Groves, Salem, was second; followed in order by Zimmerman and Son, E. R. Groves, Norris Clute of Nutwood and Homer Slagle and Sons.

The largest class was in senior heifer calves, where 18 were shown. A Slagle entry topped this class, followed by E. R. Groves, then Slagle again in third place. Vern Wehr and Son won fourth place, followed in order by Phillip Greenisen, Salem; Willis Zimmerman in the next three places; Nancy Manes of Farmdale and Chuck Thompson of the same address.

The juniors — or the 4-H entries — in this class lined up in the following order: Phillip Greenisen, Nancy Manes, Chuck Thompson, Raymond O'Neill of Girard, Ralph Wehr; Kathryn Groves, Salem; Joel Greenisen, Salem; and Nancy Louise Clute, Nutwood.

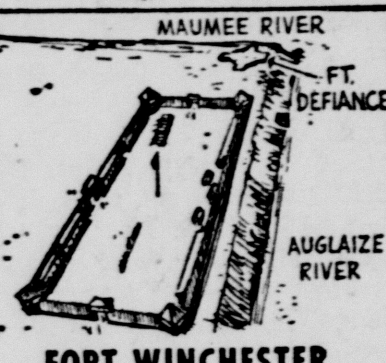

In junior yearlings, E. R. Groves had top position, followed by Slagles, Groves again, and Galen Greenisen of Salem.

In the senior yearling division, Hugh Bonnell had first and third position, with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brickley second. Slagles, fourth, and Jeanette Damschroder, fifth.

Among the juniors, Jeanette Damschroder had first with the heifer which later claimed a silver trophy as best animal owned by a junior. Second to Lynn Slagle, Poland; third to the Black entry of New Waterford; fourth to Maurice Clute, Nutwood.

In two-year-old cows, Lester Melinger and Sons of Leetonia led the

Miss Phyllis Ann Maurer Wed To James Carson McNeely

Bunker Hill Methodist Church was the scene of the marriage Saturday night of Miss Phyllis Ann Maurer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn J. Maurer of RD 4, Salem, and James Carson McNeely, son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. McNeely, also of RD 4, Salem.

Rev. E. K. Barss of Mansfield, the former minister at Bunker Hill Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony at 8 p.m.

The church was decorated for the occasion with palms and ferns at each side of the white draped altar. The altar setting of the cross, candles and altar vases of white gladioli and chrysanthemums was lighted with large candelabra at either side.

Mrs. Jerd Dow, organist, played the traditional nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Kenneth McNeely, who sang, "Always," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer," as the couple knelt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown designed with a bodice of lace over taffeta, featuring a sweetheart neckline and long pointed sleeves. The full skirt with train was fashioned of lace panels and tulle over taffeta.

Her fingertip veil was attached to a lace cap with stand-up brim. White roses showered with tiny green and white flower streamers topped the white Bible carried by the bride, whose jewelry was a pearl necklace and matching earrings, a gift from the bridegroom. Mrs. Chester Lucas of RD 4, served as her sister's matron of honor. Her pink gown was styled with a puffed sleeve lace bodice and full skirt over taffeta. The oval neckline was finished with a bertha collar. She wore matching wrist length gloves and half hat, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and white chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Richard Maurer, sister in law of the bride, as bridesmaid, wore a blue gown patterned like the matron of honor's. She wore matching hat and gloves and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and white chrysanthemums.

The other bridesmaid, Miss Patricia Close of Garfield, was gowned the same in yellow and carried yellow roses and white chrysanthemums. The attendants wore pearl necklaces and earrings which were gifts of the bride.

Cousin of the bride, Denise Maurer, was flower girl. She wore aqua taffeta trimmed with pink rosebuds and wore a matching tiara. Her necklace and bracelet were gifts of the bride. She carried a small bouquet of pink roses and white mums.

The ring bearer, Michael Weitz of Beloit, cousin of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin pillow.

Homer Marty served as best man, and Kenneth McNeely and Roger Stille ushered.

The bride's mother wore white accessories with her rose crepe dress, and the groom's mother was attired in blue tissue gingham with white accessories. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

A reception was held in the church social room for 175 guests from Lisbon, Mansfield, Canton, Sebring, Beloit, Damascus, Salem, North Georgetown, Alliance and vicinity and Florida.

The four-tiered wedding cake was topped with a bride and groom figurine in a carriage drawn by white swans, and the tiers were separated by white swans. Pink rosebuds decorated the cake. The room was decorated in aqua and white, and white wedding bells added to the decorative motif.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeely are both graduates of Goshen Union High School. Mr. McNeely is employed by the W. E. Mounts Co., and his bride is an employee in the office of the Eljer Co.

For traveling, the bride wore an aqua linen suit with white accessories and the corsage from her Bible.

After a honeymoon trip through the south, the couple will be at home to their friends at 589½ E. 3rd St.

Pedersen Home Scene Of 'Farewell' Party

In farewell to 1004 S. Lincoln Ave., Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Pedersen Sr., entertained 70 of their friends there Saturday evening at an informal buffet supper-dance. It will be hello, to 211 Highland Ave. at the end of this week when the Pedersens move there from their S. Lincoln Ave. address.

Among the large company of friends and relatives were the following out-of-town people — the Pedersen's daughter, Mrs. T. J. Lang and their granddaughter, Leslie Louise of Park Forest, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Borne of Lakewood; Miss Phyllis Cowan of Cleveland; Mrs. Robert Tillson of Mountain View, Calif.; Lt. and Mrs. Richard S. Chessman of Monterey, Calif.; and Miss Rosalia Polino of Elkins, W. Va. Miss Polino and the Langs will continue their stay here for several days.

Virginia Girl Is Bride Of David Simich

Miss Charlotte Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Hatch of Broad Bay, London Bridge, Va., and David Simich, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. David Simich, Sr. of 417 Prospect St., were married Friday, July 2, at Virginia Beach, Va.

The candle light ceremony took place at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, with Dr. W. G. Bond, pastor, officiating.

Dressed in a street length shell pink silk shantung with matching hat, the bride carried a white prayer book covered with gardenias.

Miss Fay Williams of Broad Bay, the bride's only attendant, wore a blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Best man was Edward F. Morris, Jr. of Tonawanda, N.Y., a friend of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom, who has been in the Navy since April, 1951, is stationed at Little Creek, Va.

Mrs. Bates Feted On 94th Birthday

Mrs. Lura Harris Bates celebrated her 94th birthday anniversary Friday greeting friends who called to congratulate her at her home on W. Pershing St.

There were callers from Wisconsin and Youngstown besides her many Salem friends, and the honoree received many gifts and cards.

A decorated birthday cake was served for the occasion.

Mrs. Bates, who is in fairly good health, makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Beulah Coleman. She reads and sews without the aid of glasses and can still make delicious pies.

She is the oldest member of the First Christian Church.

Mrs. Bates' husband, Orlando, whom she married Aug. 5, 1879, died in 1940, and a daughter, Alameda, died at the age of six weeks.

Scullion Home Scene Of Family Reunion

Relatives from Texas, Boston, Mass., Pittsburgh and Farrell, Pa., were in attendance at the John Scullion family reunion Sunday at the home of Mrs. Emma Scullion of the Franklin Road.

Following a basket dinner at noon, games were arranged for the children who received treats of candy. Winners of prizes for the adults were Mrs. Paul Scullion, Mrs. Emma Scullion and Mrs. Grover Scullion.

Because of the number of out-of-town members who are unable to attend, it was voted to discontinue the reunion for the next two years.

Crawford-Crookston Nuptials Held In Presbyterian Church

Bill Crookston and his bride, the former Rose Marie Crawford, who were married Sunday in the First Presbyterian Church, left after the reception for a brief honeymoon trip. The destination was undisclosed.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Paul Crawford of E. 8th St. gave their daughter in marriage in the double ring service performed before a large company of friends and relatives by the pastor, Rev. A. Laten Carter.

Mr. Crookston is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lloyd Crookston of W. Wilson St.

Among the 200 guests congratulating the couple, were people from Salem, Damascus, Canton, Warren, Leetonia, Youngstown, Columbiana, Cleveland, Crooksville, Alliance, Lisbon, Weirton, and Huntington, W. Va., Johnstown, Beaver and Aliquippa, Pa.

The wedding took place at the altar in the sanctuary, simply adorned with sheffieras, grape ivy and vases of white gladioli, white asters and gypsophila. Tall tapers in seven branch candelabra marking the chancel aisle were lighted by William David Crawford and Gerald Crookston, brothers of the couple.

Mrs. A. Laten Carter sang the love melodies, "With This Ring I Thee Wed," and "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee." As the couple were kneeling, she sang, "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Anna Cook, church organist, played the traditional marches and was accompanied by Mrs. Carter.

The bride, gowned in white slipper satin exquisitely enhanced with misty nylon net and Chantilly lace, went to the altar with her father.

The snug bodice was complete with long sleeves, pointed at the wrists. Nylon and lace added to the bouffant beauty of the hoop skirt which ended with a chapel train. Her pearl-embroidered tiara secured her fingertip veil and she wore the bridegroom's gift of pearls.

Stephanotis with angel feathers were in shower-effect from the white orchid the bride carried on her mother's white Eastern Star Bible.

Three of the bride's attendants were gowned in crystal silk in shades of yellow, lavender and green and wore rhinestone bracelets, the bride's gifts. The flower girls, Susan Kay Crawford of Youngstown and Karen Sue Cannon of Lisbon, nieces of the bride, appeared in pink nylon designed with tiny white flowers.

They carried pink baskets filled with pink and white flowers, and matching flowers banded their hair.

As her sister's matron of honor, Mrs. Ralph Cannon of Lisbon was gowned in pastel yellow. Over her tight-fitting bodice she wore a shoulderette, and the skirt was fully-fashioned. Mitts matched her gown and her tiara was in yellow.

Mrs. Jack Crawford of Youngstown, the bride's sister-in-law, wore lavender. A stole was worn over the snug bodice and the full skirt was designed with a bustle. Miss Joyce Cosgrove of Salem appeared in a green ensemble patterned after that of Mrs. Crawford. As bridesmaids they both carried colonial bouquets of mixed flowers, and their mitts and hat matched their gowns.

Richard Crookston of Salem was his brother's best man. Jack Crawford of Youngstown, the bride's brother, was an usher, as was Donald Gruenbaum of Alliance, an uncle of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Crawford, in navy blue sheer, and Mrs. Crookston in navy and white print, both complemented their costumes with corsages of white feathered carnations. Three grandmothers of the couple, wearing sweet pea corsages, were numbered among the wedding party.

Mrs. James Pittenger of Beaver, Pa., an aunt of the bride, registered the guests.

Roses, carnations, gladioli, lilies and other flowers were combined in the setting at the reception in the church social room. Punch was served by Mrs. Thomas Red of Alliance, a cousin, at a beautifully appointed table. Mrs. Elizabeth Scott of Alliance, an aunt of the bride, cut the three-tiered wedding cake which was served from an encirclement of greenery and white pompons.

Among those assisting were Mrs. Edna Trotter and Mrs. A. F. Greenamyer of Salem.

When Mr. and Mrs. Crookston left on their trip the bride pinned her bridal orchid to her pink linen suit. She used white accessories.

Mr. Crookston and his bride both were graduated from Salem High School. He is an apprentice machinist at the Lincoln Machine Co. She is a secretary at the Mullins Manufacturing Corp.

The rehearsal Friday evening in the church was followed by a buffet supper at the home of the bride's parents. Gifts were presented to the attendants. Life-long friends of the family, Mrs. Paul Yates of Salem, Mrs. Walter Hobart and Mrs. Edna Eells of Columbiana, served the supper.

Mrs. Madden Presides At Auxiliary Meeting

Mrs. Bernard Madden presided at the Monday night meeting of the Eagles Auxiliary when Mrs. Vivian Wilt and Mrs. Mary Schuller of the Alliance auxiliary led their members in drill team work. Visitors also were present from Minerva.

The next meeting of the local auxiliary will be a coverdish dinner Monday, July 26, at 6:30 p.m. in the Eagles Home. The members whose birthdays fall in April, May and June will be honored.

Personals

Eugene Snipes is recuperating at his home on N. Broadway following a three-week stay in Southside Hospital, Youngstown.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Piccard, who spent the winter in Europe, stayed at Barnett's Motel Saturday night enroute to their home in Minneapolis. Dr. Piccard holds the worlds record for the highest stratospheric balloon flight, and his wife is the only woman in the United States who has a stratospheric balloon license.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford Joseph of E. 6th St. have returned from a week's visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sharble in Philadelphia. Mr. Joseph is owner of the National Dry Cleaners.

TO ATTEND SESSION

The Lutheran World Federation of the American Lutheran Church is planning a conference July 13-15 at Capital University in Columbus as a preview of the World Council of Churches Assembly which will take place in Evanston, Ill., Aug. 13-15.

Rev. G. D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, will attend the Columbus session.

FLOWER SHOW PLANNED

All flower gardeners are given a chance to enter exhibits in the specimen show to take place in the new Mount Union College library building in Alliance Aug. 27-28 under the sponsorship of the Alliance Garden Club. College life in one respect or another will be the show's theme.

Area UCT GROUPS Plan 'Kids Day'

Salem Council, United Commercial Travelers of America, will again be co-sponsors of the Third Annual Northeastern Ohio District UCT "Kids Day" and picnic to be held at Idora Park in Youngstown this Sunday afternoon and evening. This affair is for members, their families and friends.

The U.C.T. Councils in Salem, Alliance, Warren and Youngstown have worked together on this project the past two years and it is now an annual affair. More than 200 from Salem attended last year, with an overall registration of over 600. Invitations have also been extended to Councils in Ashtabula, Canton, Akron, Cleveland, Massillon, and Sharon, Butler and New Castle, Pa.

A registration booth will be located on the porch of the Park Office from 2 to 6 p.m. Identification badges will be issued, ride tickets may be purchased at reduced prices, and prizes will be awarded hourly.

A basket style picnic supper will be held at 6 p.m. in the Kiddie Land Pavilion which will be reserved for the UCT group. Ice cream and coffee will be furnished by the committee.

The Salem committee is comprised of Rex Hundertmark, chairman, with Louis C. Moushey, Henry Schuster, Stanley K. Maskey, and Joseph E. McKibbin as aids.

Officers Are Elected At Tullis Reunion

Descendants of John and Nancy Bell Tullis met for their 8th annual reunion Sunday at Firestone Park, beginning with a basket dinner.

John Tullis was elected president; Albert Votaw, vice president; Nancy Tullis, secretary and Mrs. Albert Votaw, treasurer. Thirty were in attendance from Salem and vicinity.

Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Gene Tullis, Robert Tullis, and Nancy Tullis. Prizes went to Mrs. Ralph Ruffing, and Gene Tullis. The reunion next year on the second Sunday in July will take place at Dunn Eden Lake.

Society Plans Dinner

The Esther Butler Missionary Society of the First Friends Church will have a coverdish dinner on Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at Centennial Park.

Members are asked to bring a coverdish and their own table service. Meat, coffee and rolls will be furnished.

REUNION SCHEDULED

Members of the Hilliard family will have their reunion Sunday in pavilion 2 at Centennial Park, starting with a basket dinner at 12:30 p.m.

Engagement Announced

Miss Averill Longbottom

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Longbottom of Washingtonville announce the engagement of their daughter, Averill Louise, to John B. Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Kennedy of Walnut St., Leetonia.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Both Miss Longbottom and Mr. Kennedy are graduates of Leetonia High School, and both are employees in the office of Berg's Bretzels, Inc.

Highland Church May Get New Pastor

George Hampshire of Saxenburg, Pa., will preach Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service in the Highland Christian Church and after the service the congregation will vote on accepting him as pastor for the coming year. Sunday School convenes at 10 a.m.

Mr. Hampshire is a third-year ministerial student at Mt. Union College. If voted to assume the pastorate of the church, he will begin his duties in September, when the present pastor, Larry Lichy, will leave for further study at a Xenia United Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Pittsburg.

Sunday, August 1, has been designated as visiting Sunday at Highland. The congregation will visit other churches. Mr. Lichy, also a Mt. Union student, will preach that Sunday at his home church at Deer Creek United Presbyterian Church at Gibsonia, Pa.

The women of the church plan a benefit festival for August.

Youth Fellowship Meets In First Baptist Church

Vacation Time and Spiritual Renewal" was the topic presented by Miss Shirley Bell when the Interdenominational Youth Fellowship met Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church.

Tentative plans made for a retreat in August will be discussed again at the meeting next Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Baptist Church.

1,000 Attend Picnic Of Slovenian Group

All the members, working with the various committees, cooperated in making a success of the annual picnic of the Slovenian National Benefit Society attended by over 1,000 people Sunday at the Saxon Country Club.

Present were people from Salem, Youngstown, Warren, Girard, Cleveland, Power Point, East Palestine, Sharon, Pa., and Ontario, Canada, who enjoyed dancing to the music of Koran's Melody Makers in the afternoon, and to Johnny Vadal's orchestra in the evening.

A side attraction was the novelty booth manned by members of the Juvenile Circle 21.

Mrs. Laura Karns of Newgarden St. was the winner of the first prize of the day. Other prizes also were given.

On the refreshment committee were John Krizay, Matthew Tomsha and Albert Stepic, and food committee Mrs. Krizay, and Mrs. Ella Koran, Frank Hrvatin handled the tickets.

Another picnic is planned for about the same time in 1955.

Families Are Feted By Chatterbox Club

Members of the Chatterbox Club entertained their families at a picnic Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moffett of the Middleton Road. A former member of the club, Mrs. Norman Park of Mantua, and her family were guests.

Visiting was enjoyed, and the men pitched horseshoes.

The next regular club meeting will be Wednesday, July 28, at the home of Mrs. Ray Greenamyer of the Damascus Road.

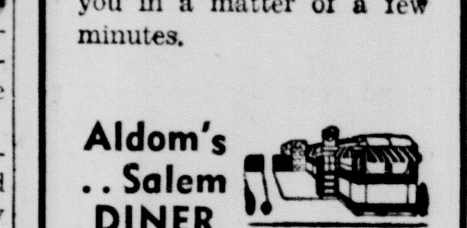

FAMILY REUNION HELD

A basket dinner at noon began the annual reunion of the descendants of David and Sarah Nesbitt Simpson July 3 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Simpson and daughter, Helen, of Columbiana.

Obituary

Charles N. King

SEBRING — Charles N. King, 85, of Alliance, died at 6:45 a.m. yesterday in Massillon State Hospital after an illness of six months.

A former kilnhand at the Royal China Co. in Sebring, Mr. King was born in Patmos, March 25, 1869, the son of the late Joseph and Mary King.

Surviving him are three daughters, Mrs. Edna Stanley of Beloit; Mrs. Ethel Rohrabach of Elgin, Ill.; and Mrs. Thelma Banker of Salem; two sons, R. J. King of North Canton and Lester King of Alliance; 20 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be conducted by Rev. Howard Moore at the East Goshen, Friends Church at 2 p.m. Thursday. Friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday at the Moosman-Vogt Funeral Home in Sebring.

Stahler Funeral

Funeral service for Howard J. Stahler, 49, of Minerva, killed when he fell into a hay baling machine on a farm north of Kensington Saturday, was held at the St. Martin Lutheran Church of Malvern.

Surviving are his wife, Roxie; four daughters, Neva, Mary, Louise and Carol at home; three sons, Crownin and Jay at home and Ralph of North Canton; his mother, Mrs. Blanch Stahler of Minerva; two brothers, Roy of Minerva and J. C. Stahler of Canton; and a sister, Mrs. Howard Mangun of Minerva.

them still further would be a detriment to the merchants and a hazard to pedestrians."

Linder cast the only dissenting vote on the resolution declaring the necessity to improve State St. and the ordinance granting the authority to proceed with that project.

The other two measures were approved unanimously by Council.

Following passage of the legislation, Councilman Charles Edwards made a motion, subsequently carried, that Council voice its appreciation to Councilman Arthur Hanna and William Stark and City Solicitor W. J. Hunston for the work and time they had expended on the State St. and lighting projects.

Council President Aldom also congratulated the men.

The State St. legislation marks the beginning of the end of a problem which has plagued city officials and been a nuisance to residents and transients for many years.

Long in a severe state of disrepair, pounded by traffic from one national and three state highways, the street had gained a reputation among truckers as "America's Burma Road."

Efforts on the part of the city to induce the state to share in the continually bogged down, because the state had insisted as a prerequisite that the city ban parking on the street, an action the city was reluctant to take.

Toward the end of last year a compromise was reached between Salem and the state in which the highway department agreed to bear the brunt of the cost of rebuilding the street if the city would widen it four feet.

Also last year, the state scraped the street and removed the ruts and humps to make it safe for winter travel.

The latest snag in the latest State St. negotiations developed Saturday when the Republican members of Council killed the opposing party's attempt to pass the state-submitted legislation as emergency measures.

The Republican members of Council had stated that passage of the legislation then, prior to enactment of the assessment ordinances, would force the cost of repairs to be borne by all the people of Salem; would render void an offer by the county to give financial aid in the amount of $5,000 on the project and would necessitate the city's providing funds for "White Way" lighting and moving utilities before assessment ordinances could be passed, thereby raising the possibility that the city might have to stand the entire cost of the project.

Councilman Hanna Saturday also informed other councilmen that he had been advised that six State St. property owners had indicated their intention of seeking an injunction to prevent the city from proceeding with the project if the provision for narrowing the sidewalks was not deleted from the final legislation.

Such an injunction, at this time apparently, is the only cloud hanging over the long-sought reconstruction of State St.

Lausche is the great enigma of the Democratic puzzle. Other Democrats say he never acts like a presidential candidate and seems to have no interest. But he represents a state that has mothered presidents in the past and isn't overlooked in the forecasts.

Railroads Plan Switch To Lightweight, Fast Trains

By ED MORSE

NEW YORK (U-P)—Chances are you'll be riding an ultra-modern lightweight train one of these days. It's a new thrill in railroading.

It's also supposed to thrill the railroad budget-balancers with its vast economies and revenue-pulling power. It's cheaper to build, cheaper to operate, and faster.

These trains of the future are aimed at just one thing: Slaying the dragon that has menaced the railroad industry so long—chronic passenger deficits.

To do that, they'll have to fascinate you—attract your patronage by their speed, convenience and easiness on your bankroll.

They'll have to sell you on the idea that it's smarter to take a trip by train than to pack your family into the car and bull your way through congested and perilous highways. For the railroad's top rival in the passenger business is the family car.

The railroads must wake up and revamp their passenger service according to the facts of life in this motor and airplane age, according to Patrick B. McGinnis, new president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad.

By all means use your car, says McGinnis. But for a sizeable trip—say the 229 miles between New York and Boston—drive it to a suburban railroad station of a type he envisions with a huge parking lot. Park your car. Ride the train in comfort to a similar station outside Boston on a swift, modern, low-slung lightweight train.

This way, he says, you'll make the trip in 2½ hours instead of the four hours now required between the huge city terminals—and you can't park your car at those terminals.

Robert R. Young, now boss of the New York Central, for years has crusaded for revolutionary lightweight passenger train. While he headed the Chesapeake & Ohio he demonstrated what he called Train X, a one-car experimental unit made by Pullman—Standard Car Manufacturing Co.

ACF Industries Inc. made a similar train called the Talgo which has been operating for five years between Madrid and the French border.

It was a counterpart of this train that ACF has been showing these past weeks on the New Haven Railroad. It recently had a 157-mile demonstration run between New Haven, Conn. and Boston. During the trip McGinnis said this Talgo was just a "prototype" of a much-improved train he wants.

Because the Talgo floor is two feet lower than a standard train's, you merely take a normal step from a near-ground-level station platform. You enter an interior much wider and lower—ceilinged than a standard car. It seems more like an airplane. You sink into an airplane-type reclining seat.

As the train starts the ride seems rocky and noisy but McGinnis reminds you that this is "only a prototype" has no sound insulation and that other kinks will be ironed out.

The train accelerates easily. The faster you go the smoother it rides. It saves time taking curves at 87 miles per hour whereas the regular speed limit is 70. On a straight run it hits a peak of 102.8 miles per hour on a road where the legal limit is 79. The ride is steady and sure.

Through the big window you see the rails sizzle by only a few feet below ground level. Passing trains thunder by, seemingly overhead. Cool stewardesses serve you on trays without mishap.

Back in June 1952 Young's "train X" had a test run between Detroit and Plymouth, Mich., hitting 108 miles per hour. During this test, says one observer, a glass of water on a seat arm remained steady as a rock.

The Rock Island Railroad has already ordered two Talgo-type trains from ACF for delivery December 1955.

Shifty Reds

By JOHN EDGAR HOOVER

Victor Riesel is on his way to Europe to cover vital labor news breaking in that arena. Today, while he is en route, John Edgar Hoover, Director, Federal Bureau of Investigation, is substituting for him as guest columnist.

The Communist party is again shifting tactics. Its aim—to deceive every patriotic American and in particular every American working man, for it is the working man at whom this shift in tactics is specifically aimed.

The shift is this:

From its postwar attitude of truculence, the party is presently striving to represent itself as a friendly neighbor working for the best interests of the nation. The American people, the party indicates, must be made to think that there's nothing to fear in Communism!

A public statement (called a draft program) issued by the National Committee of the Communist Party, USA, this spring points up this shift in tactics.

THE VERY TITLE, The American Way to Jobs, Peace, Democracy, betrays the Communist double talk, and the statement is reminiscent of the wartime "Earl Browder period" of the Communist party (1941-1945) when the Communists did everything possible to play down Communism and to cooperate with free government. It reveals that the line now is to lure Americans into believing that Communism does not conflict with American traditions and beliefs. Witnesses this statement from the draft program:

The Communist party declares that it seeks no conflict with any church or any American's religious belief."

That from a conspiratorial group which has atheistic materialism as its basic tenet!

One must know Communist tactics of the past in order to understand those of the present. The "friendly" period came to an end in 1945, when Earl Browder, exponent of the "We-can-get-along-with-capitalism" theme, was ousted. The party, taking its cue from Soviet Russia, became more truculent. It denounced "cooperation" with capitalism and urged a more militant class struggle.

Now, as more and more Americans become aware of the menace of Communism, the conspirators seek to allay their fears and hoodwink them by "again donning the friendly" mask.

MEN AND WOMEN who are members of American unions must exercise the greatest vigilance of all, for it is toward them that the most concentrated efforts of the Communist conspiracy are being directed. From its earliest days the Communist party has stressed the infiltration of labor.

During the war, the party made many successful inroads into American labor, capturing entire unions, influencing policies, and exercising an influence far out of proportion to its numbers.

The nation owes a debt of gratitude to those vigilant elements in American labor which realized what had occurred. Alerted to the pressure of Communists in their ranks, patriotic union members acted promptly to rid themselves of this evil.

Many of Communism's past gains have now been wiped out, though, as in many other areas of American life, inroads still exist. Any defeat of Communist intrigue in the labor movement inflicts serious damage to the party as a whole.

At no time have the Communists

LADY BULLFIGHTER HAS NARROW ESCAPE.—Twenty-three-year-old Bette Ford, former Broadway actress, was knocked down four times in her formal debut at Plaza de Toros, in Juarez, Mexico, but was uninjured. Bullfight fans acclaimed her for her bravery and beauty, but withheld judgment of her ability because of poor luck in drawing stubborn and unresponsive animals.

relaxed their efforts. Their instructions call for an intensified effort to penetrate the labor movement, especially the so-called "right wing" unions—to gain recruits, to circulate party literature, to influence policy.

A party "colonization" program to plant individuals, not known as Communists, in national defense establishments is presently underway.

THIS REPRESENTS a menace of the greatest magnitude and reveals that the party's chief objective is not to advance the welfare of labor, but to achieve the means for eventual revolution. The party is striving vigorously to give the widest circulation to its recent statement entitled "The American Way to Jobs, Peace, Democracy." You may receive an unsolicited copy of it. If you'll regard it as a statement of an organization which is anti-American, anti-labor, anti-democratic and anti-religious, you will have seen its true meaning.

Once the false face which cries for "peace," "democracy," and "jobs" is stripped away, you will find a Communist lackey whose first loyalty is to a foreign power, Soviet Russia. Look behind his "double-talk" words. You find he's not really interested in higher wages, better working conditions, or helping you. He's out to promote Communism.

The American laboring man, through knowledge of this shift in Communist tactics, can do much to defeat Communist objectives. The party's tactics shift and turn. Its ultimate goal remains unchanged. That goal is a Soviet America.

Woman Wins $11,000 In Suit From Blake

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (U-P)—A Common Pleas Court jury here yesterday awarded Mrs. Molly McDonald $11,000 for damages she said she suffered Christmas eve, 1949, when she was struck by a car she said was driven by State Sen. Arthur Blake (D-Martins Ferry).

A witness testified Blake had been drinking. Blake said it wasn't his car that hit her.

Ohio Sluggers Shine As Americans Blast Nationals 11-9

Rosen Blasts 2 Homers; Grantland Rice Doby, Bell, Kluszewski Dies Of Stroke Connect; Fox Wins Tilt

By JOE REICHLER
CLEVELAND (AP)—A slowly mending finger, a thing called pride and a big booming bat all played a prominent part in the American League's return to the winners' circle. The finger, pride and bat all belonged to one person, Al Rosen of the Cleveland Indians.

All-Star Jottings

By SANDY HANSELL
There was a large contingent of Salem and district fans at the All-Star game in Cleveland yesterday. They certainly got their money's worth. Main topic of conversation among Cleveland folks leaving the stadium: Hope this means Rosen and Avila have snapped out of their slumps and will go to town on the forthcoming eastern swing.

One wit remarked that if that was what Rosen could do with a bad finger, what could he have done if he were in perfect condition. Not that the Indians didn't put on a show for the home folks. Three homers, seven hits, 8 RBIs and four runs scored among them. There also was an abundance of Cincinnati fans present who didn't seem to mind the round-trippers supplied by Ted Kluszewski and Gus Bell. A real All-Ohio day.

The biggest spontaneous ovation of the day, with the exception of those accorded the home run blasts and to Rosen when he appeared at the plate after his second four-ply sock, was given to Ted Williams when he came out to pinch-hit in the fourth. He had a usual day (for him) yesterday. . . . struck out twice and walked once. . . . funny thing about Williams. . . . he gave the fans more of a thrill just striking out than some of the boys did when they hit.

That Willie Mays is everything they say he is. . . . In pre-game batting practice he smashed one clear up into the upper deck in left field. . . . Smooth operator in the field, too. . . . Bill Stewart, the umpire who was involved in the famous disputed pickoff play with Lou Boudreau in the 1949 World Series, was booed yesterday when he was announced. . . . he was the ump who refused to call a balk on Dean Stone after Red Schoendienst attempted to steal home despite the "gentle" insisting of Leo Durocher. . . . Stone got credit for the win although he made only three pitches and didn't retire a batter.

A few fans started to leave the game in the top of the ninth but two long fouls by Stan Musial in near-home run territory sent many of them scurrying back to their seats again. . . . Seven all-time records were broken yesterday and four were tied. . . . pinch-hitters had a usual day yesterday. . . . Two homered (Bell and Doby), one doubled (Don Mueller), and four (Frank Thomas, Mickey Vernon, Williams and Nelson Fox) struck out. . . . Thomas, perhaps typifying the season his Pittsburgh Pirates are experiencing, was the only man in the game to take the third strike with the bat on his shoulder.

East Palestine Beats Junior Legion Team

The Salem Junior Legion team missed a trip to Canton for the district playoff when it dropped a 6-4 decision in extra innings yesterday to East Palestine at Centennial Park.

The winners scored twice in the top of the ninth to eke out the victory.

Fred Ziegler was the starting and losing hurler for Salem, chucking eight and two-thirds innings. He walked four, struck out seven and allowed 10 hits. Jim Fife didn't face a batter as he finished the game, picking off a baserunner.

Bob Faulkner smashed a home run for Salem in the second inning with no one on.

The Legion's final slate shows four wins in 14 outings.

American League All-Star victory over the Nationals shows it was a bases-loaded single by Nellie Fox in the eighth inning—a real "bleeder"—that drove in the winning runs to end the war of 13 pitchers in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

But it was Rosen who, despite a painful and swollen index finger, blasted two home runs, drove in five runs and spearheaded the annihilation of six of the National League's best pitchers.

It didn't come to light until later that Rosen had asked Manager Casey Stengel to be taken out after the first inning because he felt he "might hurt the team."

"Yes, I went to Casey before the game with the idea that I be taken out of the lineup," admitted Rosen in a clubhouse interview after the game. "I didn't sleep a wink all night worrying whether I'd be a detriment to the team."

"But pride got the better of me. Instead of begging off altogether, I suggested to Stengel that I give it one try because I felt I owed it to the fans who voted me on the team to bat at least once."

"Casey and I discussed three alternatives — play three innings, don't play at all or hit once and quit. Since Casey had no power to make any decision, he took the matter to Commissioner Ford Frick. The Commissioner decided to leave it up to me. I told Casey I'd like to go to bat once and then tell him how I felt."

"Well, struck out in the first inning and felt terrible. The finger hurt like the dickens—it hurts more when you strike out—but didn't say anything to Casey. Call it foolish pride but I didn't want to bow out that way. If I had at least flied out, it wouldn't have been so bad. I might have quit then. But not that way. I wanted to bat once more. Well, the next time up I hit a home run. You can't imagine the feeling. And would you believe it, the finger didn't hurt. . . . not much, anyway."

The homer, hit off starter Robin Roberts in the third inning, came after the Philadelphia right-hander had walked Chicago's Minnie Minoso and had given up a single to Cleveland's Bobby Avila. Ray Boone of Detroit followed with a home run to give the Americans a 4-0 lead.

The Nationals fought back with five runs against Chicago's Sandy Consuegra and Cleveland's Bob Lemon in the fourth, and added two more runs on a homer by Cincinnati's Ted Kluszewski in the fifth, forging ahead 7-5, after the Americans had scored again in the fourth.

Rosen was not through yet, finger and all. After Yogi Berra had singled in the last of the fifth, the 29-year-old converted first baseman walloped a second home run, even longer than the first. This 400-foot drive tied the score at 7-7. Rosen got his third hit in the sixth, a hot single off the third baseman's chest which didn't figure in the run that put the Americans ahead 8-7 in that inning.

Al's walk, however, played a major part in the eighth when the Americans tallied three times to overcome a 9-8 deficit. The Nationals had taken a one-run lead when pinch hitter Gus Bell of Cincinnati hammered a home run off Bob Keegan of Chicago, the sixth of seven pitchers used by Stengel.

Trailing 9-8, the Americans tied the score on Larry Doby's pinch-hit homer off Gene Conley of Milwaukee. Singles by the Yankees' Mickey Mantle and Yogi Berra preceded the walk to Rosen. Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, sixth pitcher used by Manager Walter Alston, replaced Conley and fanned Mickey Vernon for the second out but Fox blooped a Texas leaguer in back of second base, just out of the reach of shortstop Alvin Dark, to chase in the winning runs.

The victory ended the National's four-game victory streak. It was the first triumph for Stengel, who had not won one in four previous tries. It was by far the wildest of 21 games of the series, which the Americans lead 13-8. New records were set for most hits by one team, 17 for the Americans; most hits by both teams, 31; and most runs scored by both teams, 20. The six homers tied a record as did the two by Rosen and the five runs batted in by the slugging infielder.

A total of 43 players were used, 22 by the Nationals.

The attendance was 68,751.

Dean Of Sports Writers Was 73

NEW YORK (AP)—"Outlined against the blue-gray October sky, the Four Horsemen rode again. Perhaps there will be better leads written on sports stories, but there probably will never be a more widely known one. It was written almost three decades ago in describing the Army - Notre Dame football game of 1924 by Grantland Rice, the dean of American sport writers, who died of a stroke last night at 73."

Notre Dame went on to win the game on that murky day and the famous backfield of Elmer Layden, Harry Stuldrer, Jim Crowley and Don Miller became a legend. Rice was a perfectionist of his profession and many is the youngster who tried to pattern himself after this veteran of more than a half-century in sports.

Granny, as he was known in the trade, was one of the first erudite sports writers. When he started, after his graduation from Vanderbilt University with a Phi Beta Kappa key, sports departments as they are known today, were nonexistent.

In fact, his first job with the Nashville News in 1901 combined covering sports with the state capital, county court house and customs office—at $5 a week.

In addition to the Nashville News, Rice worked on Forester Magazine, the Atlanta Journal, the Cleveland News, the Nashville Tennessean, the New York Evening Mail, the New York Herald Tribune and the Bell Syndicate which distributed his column at the time of his death.

He is survived by his widow, Katherine, whom he married in 1906, and a daughter, Mrs. Fred Butler of Venice, Calif. Professionally she is Florence Rice of the movies and stage.

Rice was born in Murfreesboro, Tenn., on Nov. 1, 1880.

U. S. Opens Climb For Davis Cup

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—The United States begins the annual long climb to the Challenge Round of the Davis Cup today when it meets the British West Indies in a first-round American zone match.

That the Americans will win and go on to the semifinal of the American zone is taken for granted. The United States Lawn Tennis Assn. assigned its second-line players to the task of whipping the local team. Last year, the United States, again using its younger players, scored a 5-0 conquest over the BWI.

Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., has been given the first singles test against Geoff Inglefield, while Straight Clark of Pasadena, Calif., will meet Ralph Legall. The other member of the American team is Hal Burrows of Charlottesville, Va.

Tomorrow the doubles match will be held and Burrows might get into action. The final two singles are slated for Friday.

Cuba has drawn a bye in the first round and will play the winner of the British West Indies-United States contest in the semifinal, which must be completed by Aug. 2. Mexico already has advanced to the semifinal while Canada and Chile will complete their first-round match over the weekend.

A total of 43 players were used, 22 by the Nationals.

The attendance was 68,751.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By R. I. Lide

Hats off to the Knox Township Sportsmen Club members who are actively engaged in building flush-hunt bars for the farmers to use during wheat harvesting and hay making time. The combines and mowing machines bring death to many rabbits, quail and pheasants.

One farmer told me about having counted 13 young pheasants with their heads cut off last year, the result of mowing operations. Farmers don't have time to wait or consider the wildlife when it is time to harvest. The sportsmen in Knox Twp., however, are doing something about it with the aid of their farmer friends. Fortunately, many farmers are active members of the Knox Twp. Sportsmen Club.

ABOUT THE most consistent fishing spot within the county that I know of is Westville Lake. Fishermen from Sebring, Alliance and Canton fish this spot with regularity and most of them take home nice stringers of bluegills, Lake Erie size perch of 15" and brown bullheads.

Two fishermen from Canton who concentrate on perch fishing claim they catch more perch in Westville than they can in Lake Erie. They refuse to reveal their tactics, but the log kept by "Red" Craven, lake manager, lists their catches along with the success of other fishermen. Bass fishing has been spotty.

LOADING THE big buck killed last week on Route 9 has put me temporarily out of action with a back ailment. Phone calls are being taken at my home however and field operations continue normally with the assistance of game protector-at-large just for such a purpose.

While investigating a case of pollution at Power Point last week I heard the clamor of rubbish being dumped from on top of the cliff directly into Little Beaver Creek. Before I could get up there the truck drove away but before dumping a load of rubbish of the usual assortment of tin, glass, paper and trash.

I called the attention of the highway crew of workmen to this and they said "No Dumping" signs would be placed there. That is all well and good and about the only thing left to do but the dumpers will seek another place and dump until stopped.

AFTER TALKING with a fisherman at Power Point, I will pass along what he told me with seriousness, for what it is worth. This particular part of Little Beaver Creek is loaded with water dogs, sometimes called mud-puppies. Although this lizard-like animal that grows to about 18 inches in length is not poisonous, yet it can inflict a painful bite.

This fisherman said he keeps a can of carbide with him and as fast as he catches them he stuffs a few slugs of carbide down their throat, and returns them to the water. Then he can trace their movements by the gaseous smoke that comes bubbling up from the water like a miniature steamboat. Finally, he says, the varmint "burps" himself to death.

Who am I to say "taint so"?

OHIO RACCOON hunters are faced with a problem, especially the ones who hunt for sport. Since Pennsylvania has no closed season on 'coon there are a lot of baby 'coons showing up in this county and requests for permits to keep them are coming in regular. Raccoon may be kept for pets when legally taken within the county. I have no way of knowing a Pennsylvania 'coon from a native of Ohio. When all other legal requirements have been met there is nothing left but signing a permit. No doubt there is some cheating going on. Looks as if something will have to be done against bringing live raccoon into Ohio. This is a problem however for the Wildlife Conservation Council which might call for legislative action.

OBSERVATIONS: A large buck and a doe on the R. E. Forney farm just north of Lisbon—Lots of baby quail scooting across the country roads—A load of teen-agers coming down from side to side with the car to sway from side to side with their body movements while moving at top speed. There is some sort of a moral connected with this action such as: "How not to grow old."

Butler Grange, Paul & Joe, Leetonia Win Contests

Grangers Boost League Lead

Miller Strikes Out 8, Scores Winning Run

Good pitching again featured play at Kelley Field last night in the City Softball Leagues.

Butler Grange drafted Henry Miller of the "A" league Old Timers nine to replace injured pitcher Glenn Mercer.

Miller came through in fine style last night after a shaky start, striking out eight men and snuffing out two late rallies to lead Grange to a 6-5 win over Lisbon in extra innings.

In other play, Paul and Joe upset Mullins 3-1 and Leetonia dropped Goshen Grange 14-9. As a result of last night's action, Butler increased its league lead to a full game over Salem Tool, Paul and Joe advanced into a fourth-place tie with Mullins and Leetonia broke a first-place deadlock in the "A" loop with Parkers.

Butler 6, Lisbon 5

Henry Miller was the big gun in the game, pitching superb ball in the late innings and scoring the winning run himself.

In the sixth, Miller had the bases loaded and none out with Butler in action tonight at Kelly Field.

Amvets and Homeworth, currently tied for second place in the girls' division, will battle at 6:30, Georgetown and Homeworth will meet at 7:45 and, at 9 p.m., Old Timers and Electric Furnace will clash in an "A" tilt.

Tomorrow, Bliss and Lisbon are scheduled in the first game, Demings and Paul and Joe in the second and Goshen and Furnace in the nightcap.

behind 5-2. However, a double-play got him out of that hole.

Butler scored three in the sixth to send the game into overtime on a hit, two walks, an error and a wild pitch.

In the top of the 8th, Lisbon again loaded the sacks with none out, but Miller retired the side on two strikeouts and a ground-out.

The winning marker scored as Miller walked, went to third on an error and came home on Bob Cameron's clutch hit.

Paul Cartwright had four hits in five trips to pace the losers while Jerry Mounts and Cameron had two each for the winners. Losing pitcher Paul Logue struck out 10 men.

Paul and Joe 3, Mullins 1

In the night's pitchers' battle, Don Fife bettered Johnny McQuiston in a battle right down to the wire.

Fife gave up only three hits, two of them by Toots Hrvatin while McQuiston gave up five safeties, three of them by John Rottenborn.

Mullins scored its only run as Hrvatin's double and Gene Dean's sacrifice fly sent McQuiston home.

Wille Noguera drove in one Paul and Joe tally, Rottenborn's homer accounted for the second and Wheel Harrigan came around on another Rottenborn hit and an error.

Leetonia 14, Goshen 9

Going into the seventh inning leading 5-4, Leetonia scored nine runs only to have Goshen come back with five of their own, but Leetonia was able to hang on for the win.

Gene Altomere hit a home run

ROSEN'S FIRST HOMER—Cleveland Indians' Al Rosen crosses the plate after hitting a home run in the third inning of the All-Star game in Cleveland. The smash scored White Sox's Minnie Minoso (9) and Indians' Bobby Avila (1). Rosen hit another four-bagger in the fifth, tying the home run and runs-batted-in records for All-Star games. Detroit's Ray Boone (8) followed Rosen in the third with another home run.

to feature the big 9-run seventh while Bob Capel smashed a round-tripper for Goshen.

Altomere had four hits to lead the winners while Miskimins had three for the losers.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

For some years now, we have had reason to believe that the Soviets' key underground headquarters for infiltration of our Western Hemisphere was in Cuba. In view of developments in Guatemala, I asked Col. Fulgencio Batista, president of Cuba, what his government has done about this Communist "apparatus" in his country.

President Batista replied: Dear Victor Riesel: It is a pleasure to comply with your request for information on the labor situation in Cuba today. I know you are interested in finding out just how real the threat of Communism is in Cuba, particularly from labor's standpoint.

The great majority of the members of Cuba's unions — and that includes their leaders — are loyal, patriotic and democratic-minded. It is important to keep that in mind in appraising the situation, else we might, in our effort to pinpoint the Communist danger, inadvertently do harm to the substantial men and women who make up our unions.

YOU WANT to know whether the Communists have increased their activities recently in their efforts to penetrate labor's ranks. Unfortunately, they have.

Some weeks prior to last May, we discovered that Communists were making an all-out effort to infiltrate our unions. They planned to provoke public disturbances during May Day celebrations throughout Cuba. Further investigation revealed that the Communists had achieved some success in their efforts to worm their way into the unions. This was disturbing.

Once we were certain of the Communist conspiracy, we acted. First we cancelled all public May Day celebrations. We called in the labor leaders and told them to clean house. We explained to them very clearly that, although the government was in sympathy with the unions' legitimate aims, it would not tolerate Communist infiltration anywhere — inside or outside labor — and we found that the responsible union people were in complete agreement with this approach.

We felt certain that we blocked the Communists' plans to take over the unions, but we dare not, for a moment, relax. In preventing the Communists from moving in on labor, we performed a duty to the democratic people of Cuba as well as the democratic peoples of the Americas. Furthermore, we believe that the greatest beneficiaries of our activities against the Communists are the union members themselves.

Once Communists win control of a union, the rank-and-file members become serfs and lose all the rights and liberties which are the fruits of democracy.

IMMEDIATELY after the discovery of the May Day conspiracy, the government took several important steps to tighten up on the Communists.

First, we organized an active, permanent Commission of cabinet members to study means of combating Communism in our Republic. The Commission already has led to the enactment of several laws. One law prevents the employment of Communists in any public service, such as the national provincial or municipal governments.

Another makes it a prison offense to send Communist literature or propaganda through the mails, via telegram or cable — or by any other means of distribution.

A third provides for the deportation of non-citizens who engage in Communist activities.

Shortly after my government came into power, in March of 1952, we learned that the Soviet embassy in Havana was actually the headquarters for all the Communist espionage and intrigue being carried on throughout the Western Hemisphere.

As many as 250 Soviet agents were housed at the embassy at one time. There were indications that the embassy was used as an exchange point for spies as well as a factory for the production of fake credentials. They enjoyed all the privileges of legitimate diplomats.

WE CANCELLED the diplomatic privileges of the Communists agents and put an end to the illegitimate activities at the Russian embassy.

Our action precipitated a break of diplomatic relations with Russia. The Cuban government took over the embassy building.

Cuba has no intention of re-establishing relations with Russia! In Cuba today there is an active anti-Communist organization and some of its leaders are prominent figures in the ranks of organized labor — both industrial and agricultural.

But the long-range fight must be directed toward the elimination of the conditions under which Communism thrives. The achievement of that objective is not the responsibility of government and labor alone. It is a fight in which every patriotic citizen must participate to the fullest. I have great faith in the Cuban people to carry on that fight in our country.

(signed) Fulgencio Batista, President of Cuba.

YOUNG HERO — Ten-year-old Scotty Parish of Tishomingo, Mass., is fighting for his life in a Memphis hospital with third degree burns over 60 per cent of his body. He was burned in saving his aunt's home from burning in an oil stove fire while she was sick in bed. Scotty's aunt, Emma Hunt, visits him at the hospital.

More Fun In Sight

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If the world of today has you down, folks, just hold on—the world of tomorrow will be better.

A desiring young man named Paul Wrablica, whose job is to help create new industrial products better geared to the needs of mankind, says that in 10 years our civilization will be more fun for everybody in the family—mama, papa, and all their little two-legged tax deducts.

First, let us take up Wrablica's vista of joy for Dad a decade hence:

The average man, because of greater production efficiency, will work only 30 hours a week—and for more pay than he gets now. "This will give him longer weekends, more leisure to enjoy the hobbies he likes. And their cost will come down. Suppose he likes sailing. Motor boats and sailboats will be molded from a single piece of plastic, as the bodies of some cars are now.

That long wearisome ride from his job in the city to his home in the suburbs won't take so long. He'll speed there in a fraction of the present time in a jet-propelled monorail train.

"Even the parking problem will be solved to some extent with smaller cars and more automatic multi-level garages."

The housewife will have it even better, if the fief in Wrablica's crystal ball is clear:

"Most homes will be air-conditioned the year around. This means less housework. There will be no danger of falling down the stairs. There won't be many stairs. They will be replaced by elevators or inclined planes.

"The need for maids will practically disappear. The kitchen will become less important, because families will eat out more in restaurants that are truly homelike. There will be little formal entertaining in the home.

"Wives complain today about having to push or carry a heavy vacuum cleaner around. That won't be necessary at all. A woman will be able to plug a hose into an ordinary wall outlet and—zip—the dust will be sucked down into a disposal unit in the basement. Wives will have more and more time to spend caring for their children, going into politics or doing community work."

Wrablica is sure household

NO DUDS FOR DOG DAYS.—Wearing only a shadow in an attempt to keep cool, 4-year-old Jimmy Kelly of Long Beach, Calif., moves in high gear as he is pursued by his mother, Mrs. James M. Kelly July 8, Long Beach, along with the rest of Southern California, is going through a terrific heat wave with temperatures hitting around 93 degrees.

gadgets of all kinds will be simpler, more durable, and less likely to need repairs.

And look what a pleasant life lies ahead for the kids in 1964—if he's right:

"Movies will be piped directly into the home.

"Toys will be designed better for a child's real needs, and they'll be safer. In fact, life in general will be safer because of better design.

Television will be common-place in the schools.

"The TV-telephone will be coming into general use."

Personally, I am not so sure

Contests Held In Mile Branch Grange Hall

Mile Branch Grange observed a home economics night in the program and in the annual baking and sewing contests Friday evening.

Awards were given Mrs. Norman Barnett and Mrs. Kurt Krahling in the banana nut bread contest. Mrs. Franklin Henderson won the honors in the housedress contest with Mrs. Edward Braid placing second. A juvenile soap carving contest was won by Henry Miller.

Judges of the contests were Mrs. John Hammond and Mrs. Frank Steffens of Smith Grange. This feature followed the program in charge of Mrs. Ross Boiegrain, home economics chairman including piano duet played by Mrs. Norman Barnett and her daughter, Beverly, Dance of the Winds. A humorous monologue was given by Mrs. Herman Fryfogle, Chicken and Dumplings. Mrs. D. M. Allison read a health article entitled, Take Care of Your Eyes. Mrs. Boiegrain talked on the Magnetic Springs Polio Foundation Center which is open to the public.

Norman Barnett, master, presided Marvin Dye and George Lee, chairman and co-chairman of the youth committee, spoke of the Tuesday evening meeting of the youth and said that programs will be planned the first Tuesday evening in each month.

Mrs. Mark Borton, juvenile chairman, reported on attending the Columbiana County Juvenile Night at West Township School when granges throughout the county exemplified the ritual work of the order. Mile Branch juveniles gave the drill that follows initiation.

A letter from the Columbiana County Agricultural Society asked for contributions from organizations and individuals for a proposed new animal building at the county fair grounds in Lisbon. Members

AVA AND THE BULLFIGHTER—Ava Gardner dines with Spanish Bullfighter Miguel Luis Dominguez at a Reno, Nev., hotel. Miguel flew from Spain to be with the actress while she sits out the required six-weeks residence for a divorce from singer Frank Sinatra.

bers voted a $10 donation to the Columbiana County Rural Health and Safety Council.

Mrs. Mark Borton was named Mile Branch Delegate and Foster Hall, alternate for candidates as delegates and alternates from the county to State Grange sessions in Columbus in October. George Sheen was accepted as a new member by demit from Greenford Grange and George Miller won the evening's attendance award.

Visitors at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. John Hammond and Mrs. Frank Steffens of Smith Grange, who spoke briefly. Announcement was made for a Columbiana County officers conference to be held at Calcutta Grange hall on July 18.

Members of the home economics committee were in charge of the evening's refreshments. On July 23, the next meeting will be in charge of the young people of the grange.

Gypsy Fortune Teller Right, Number 146 Hits

BALTIMORE (AP) — Stine Gilk, a 19-year-old Gypsy, predicted number 146 would hit yesterday, but she didn't say who.

Patrolman Thomas Tankersley arrested Stina after a Negro housewife, Mrs. Mary McLaughlin, complained she tried to flim-flam her out of $15 while blessing the money. As an added attraction to a 60-cent palm reading, Mrs. McLaughlin said, Stina told her number 146 would hit.

The Gypsy was fined $50 and given 30 days in jail after Tankersley hauled her before Magistrate Charlotte Main.

Tankersley's badge number is 146.

There are about 80 million motor vehicles in the world.

Patrol Urges Caution On Vacation Trips

Cpl. E. W. Mallory of the Salem State Highway Patrol urged Columbiana County motorists today to use extreme caution on their vacation trips this summer.

Vacation driving, the officer said, increases substantially during the months of July and August. Statistics show that fatal traffic accidents also are more frequent during these months than in earlier months of the year.

Motor vehicle accident fatalities in July, 1953, were up 10 per cent over the average for the first six months on a national scale, he said. "And in August, the fatalities were up 29 per cent from the average."

To aid motorists in planning their vacation trips, Cpl. Mallory listed the following safety tips:

1. Plan your trip so that you have plenty of time to reach your destination and return, without speeding or driving when fatigued.
2. Learn driving regulations of the states you expect to travel through before you start on your trip.
3. If you drive, don't drink; if you drink, don't drive.
4. Watch for and heed all road signs and posted speed limits.
5. Have your car (and trailer if you are going to use one) completely safety checked so that you are sure that everything is in first-class condition mechanically.
6. Load your car carefully so that luggage and equipment do not interfere with vision, will not shift dangerously in an emergency.

4-H Club News

Damascus Hustlers

Damascus Hustlers met Wednesday at the home of Gordon and Wayne Warrington. Roll call was answered by naming a favorite ball player. Plans for overnight camping at Sevaheen Lake July 19 were made.

A talk on "How to Care for and Feed Chickens" was given by Wayne Warrington, followed by a talk and demonstration on the different kinds of soil from farm fields. Refreshments were served by Gordon and Wayne's mother, Mrs. Paul Warrington. The next meeting will be held at Wayne and Eddie Cameron's July 23.

Happy Go Lucky

Naming a favorite flower was given in answer to roll call when the Happy Go Lucky 4-H Club was entertained by Joyce and Martha Whiteher. The trip to Cedar Point near Sandusky was discussed. Martha Whiteher gave a demonstration on "How to Dust a Chair," and a demonstration on "How to hem a bean bag," was presented by Sandra Malmesberry. Work on the projects occupied the remainder of the time. Lunch was served by the hostesses.

The next meeting will be held July 22 with Janet Mincks, hostess.

Maidenettes

Mrs. Raymond Ikert, advisor of the Maidenettes 4-H Club, was hostess July 2 in her home in Leetonia. A Mrs. Calvin of Lisbon was present to help the girls in selecting patterns for dresses and explained about cutting of the various styles. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ikert and a coverd picnic was planned for Friday at Centennial Park.

Genial Goshenettes

Members named birds in answer to roll call when the Genial Goshenettes met Wednesday, July 7, at the home of Mary Ann Vandenberg of the Goshen Road.

Plans for the 4-H trip to Cedar Point and Kelly's Island were discussed. Vera Greenamyer demonstrated how to make a patch.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, July 21, at the home of Joyce Moffett on Snodes - New Middleton Road. Marilyn Weingart will demonstrate how to make a needlebook.

At the close of the meeting, games, television and records were enjoyed in the recreation period. Lunch was served by Mary Ann's mother, Mrs. Jay Bricker.

Lobster Fisherman Nabs 160-Pound Swordfish

BLOCK ISLAND, R.I. (AP) — Arthur B. Rose, a fisherman, wasn't equipped yesterday to land a 160-pound swordfish—but he did anyway.

He sighted the big fish while hauling lobster pots. He tied the end of his striking line to a stack of pots, had his partner, Edward Conley, tie him to the mast for safety's sake, and then proceeded to harpoon the swordfish.

Driver Held For Leaving Number Of Accidents

BEAVER FALLS, Pa. (AP) — Sammy Casina of Aliquippa is in the Beaver County Jail awaiting grand jury action on charges of failing to stop at the scenes of a number of accidents.

- Police said he:
1. Drove through an Aliquippa service station, knocked down a pole and didn't stop.
 2. Collided with a car near Aliquippa and didn't stop.
 3. Collided with another auto in Coraopolis and didn't stop.
 4. Punched a motorist who asked him why he was driving recklessly.
 5. Shattered a window pane in his mother's home.
